Writing for Nursing Economic$

The journal's purpose is to advance nursing leadership in health care, with a focus on tomorrow, by providing information and thoughtful analyses of content and emerging best practices in health care management, economics and policy-making.

Query letters are welcome, but not required. Material must be original and previously unpublished. Material is submitted for review with the understanding that it is not being simultaneously submitted to any other journal.

Nursing Economic$ is a refereed journal. All manuscripts submitted undergo review by the editor and blind review by members of the manuscript review panel and/or editorial board. Each manuscript is reviewed on its timeliness, importance, clarity, accuracy, and applicability.

Upon acceptance of the manuscript, the author will yield copyright to Nursing Economic$. Acquiring permission to reprint previously published materials (figures, tables, photos, etc.) is the responsibility of the author. Authors have the responsibility to verify that they have read all the materials cited in their manuscript and, if necessary, have contacted the relevant authors to verify the accuracy of cited material. Manuscripts are subject to copy editing. The author will receive proofs via email for review prior to publication.

Manuscript Preparation

Manuscripts must be typewritten, double-spaced, on a 8.5 x 11 inch document; maximum length is 15 pages (3,750 words). References, photographs, tables, and all other details of style must conform to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA 7th ed., 2019).

Title Page: Include the manuscript title, authors' names, credentials, and a brief biographic statement. Also include an address for correspondence, email address (required), day and evening phone numbers, and a brief abstract of 40 words or less.

Text: Double-space all text, using 1 to 2 inch margins. The manuscript title should be repeated on the first page of the text, but do not include the author's name.

Subheadings: Include subheadings in the manuscript where possible. Type all subheadings flush to the left margin.

References: References, photographs, tables, and all other details of style must conform with the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association. All references in text should be cited by author and date, for example, (Doe & Brown, 2018) with page numbers cited for direct quotations. List all references in alphabetical order. Only use references that are actually cited within the text. Authors are encouraged to provide the digital object identifier (DOI) number directly after all references when possible.

Citing multiple authors: In-text citations with three or more authors should include the first author followed by et al., even in the first citation.

In the References list, if there are eight authors or more, list the first six, then an ellipsis, then the last author. If there are seven authors, list all seven. Sample references are shown below:

Periodical (eight authors or more):

Doe, J.R., Brown, M.S., Smith, J.R., Jones, M.S., Thomas, J.R., White, M.S., ... James, J.R. (2018). Coping with hospitalization. Nursing Economic$, 21(2), 115-120.

Book (seven authors):

Doe, J.R., Brown, M.S., Trent, J.R., Michaels, M.S., Bradley, J.R., Willis, R.Y., & Williams, J.R. (2018). The cost of nursing care. Academic Press.

Chapter in a Book:

Note: Manuscripts must NOT contain reference software codes, and the use of reference software is highly discouraged.

Figures: These include line drawings, diagrams, and graphs. Each figure should be numbered. When using figures adapted from another source, the author must obtain written permission for both print and electronic use from the original publisher. All figures should be submitted camera-ready.

Photographs: Photographs may be digital or hard copy prints. Digital photographs must be of a resolution of at least 300 dpi or a minimum of 1280 x 960 pixels. Hard copy prints must be 4" x 5" or larger, of good contrast, and printed on glossy paper.

General: All graphics, figures, and forms must be submitted camera-ready.

Publication

Authors will be notified of a manuscript's acceptance within 12 weeks of receipt, with publication in the next available issue. Authors may purchase reprints of their articles at the time of publication. If contact information (address, email address), or biographical information changes during time of acceptance to publication, please contact the journal office to update your information.

Manuscript Submission

One electronic copy of the manuscript (MS Word format only) should be submitted to the editorial office. Hard copies are not required. Manuscripts should be submitted as one file (i.e., Title Page, Author Information, Abstract, etc.) unless separate files are absolutely necessary. Email the manuscript to nejml@ajj.com.
